

A short message for farmers, so if you know any please pass this on to them.

This is urgent!

Why have the National Farmers Federation the NFF been lying to farmers by claiming that there are “well demonstrated” benefits of GM crops overseas?

- The NFF claim that GM crops will reduce chemical use on crops.
- The NFF claim that GM crops will improve production yields.

Visit www.nelsonfarm.net and see what has happened to just one American farming family at the hands of Monsanto. You'll find that what the NFF says is just not true, it is actually just the opposite.

In one breath the NFF say that farmers need details on how GM crop technology can be “safely implemented”. What do they mean by “safely”, if it is not dangerous to start with?. In the next breath they say that GM free zones should be prohibited in Australia.

They are talking about a 5 metre buffer zone between crops to stop the pollen flow, whilst in the US, they cannot stop the pollen from travelling much greater distances. Something like 80% of their farms have now been polluted with patented pollen owned by giant US drug companies.

Farmers in North America are being dragged into court by the drug companies who are demanding royalties because their patented pollen has got into and contaminated the farmers crops.

Why are the NFF and the VFF (Victorian Farmers Federation) lying to Australia when they know that the world does not want the crops from the US precisely because they are Genetically Engineered and the plants are drug dependent. Australia could have world markets forevermore with clean food. Australia could also become a ‘clean seed bank’ for the world if we don't pollute our crops with plants that are GM and drug dependent.

Drug dependent plants are what this is all about so why are our politicians, the NFF and the VFF, forcing us and our children down the path of drug dependent plants forevermore?

The plan is to start with canola, then eventually all crops are to be genetically engineered. We will end up paying a royalty for every mouthful of food that we eat. Is this the heritage we want to pass onto our kids?

Most Australians know nothing about the obscenity that is about to be forced upon us. Those who are selling us out know that everyone is busy watching the War in Iraq. Who is to be charged with treason when the control of our food is given over to a foreign power??
